B.C.-AUSTRALIA AIR MAIL ROUTE RECOMMENDED

Report Before London Imperial Conference Outlines Plan For Service

U.S. Consent At Honolulu Needed

LONDON (CP)—Air mail service between British Columbia and Australia is contemplated in the report to be submitted to the Imperial Conference by its air communications committee.

The report, it is understood, advises the establishment of trans-Pacific air mail with the service now effective between Australia and New Zealand as a beginning. Afterwards would come the British Columbia-Australia stretch, linking with the trans-Canada service.

Establishment of the Canada-Australia section would be dependent, however, on the United States Government granting landing facilities at Honolulu. Nothing concrete will be done before the London government and the Dominions have ascertained what Washington would ask in return for such authorization, it was said.

LINK WITH ATLANTIC

The trans-Canada air postal system would link the proposed service with the trans-Atlantic lines which will be started in the near future, it was pointed out.

The report suggests Vancouver as the terminus. Maritime and aerial navigation in the Pacific are commanding the attention of the Imperial Conference to a greater extent than the proposal for a non-aggression pact in the Pacific submitted by Australian Prime Minister Joseph A. Lyons.

From Honolulu the line would have stops on Christmas Island, Hull Island, in the Phoenix group, and finally the Fiji Islands. From Fiji it would be extended via Noumea, New Caledonia, to either Brisbane or Sydney.

It Was Spanish Insurgent Mine Which H.M.S. Hunter Hit; Eight Killed

LONDON—The British Government today blamed Spanish insurgents for the mine which the British destroyer Hunter hit off Almeria last May 13, with loss of eight of her crew and injuries to twenty-four. A formal protest was dispatched to Gen. Francisco Franco.

The Foreign Office instructed Sir Henry Chilton, British ambassador to Spain, who is now at Hendaye, France, to relay the protest to insurgent headquarters at Salamanca.

It termed the Hunter explosion an "accident," but a spokesman said reports to British authorities indicated the insurgents had laid mines in the high seas off Almeria and elsewhere. One of these, it was asserted, caused the Hunter incident.

Almeria is a Spanish government-held port on the southeast coast on the Mediterranean which the insurgents have tried to blockade. More recently it

Still Working On Fortin Plan

Bondholders' Committee Engaged in Securing 51 Per Cent Support For Scheme

No announcement has been made recently on the Fortin plan for the refunding of Victoria's civic debt due to the fact time has been required to secure definite support of the scheme from 51 per cent of the bondholders, C. S. Henley, city fiscal agent, stated today.

"The bondholders' committee is working to secure the support of 51 per cent of the bondholders and will then request the endorsement of all interests holding city issues," Mr. Henley said. He expressed confidence the plan would be in force by the end of the year. The bondholders' committee, he said, would not approach the provincial government with a request for conversion until it had the support of the required 51 per cent. When that had been secured, completion of the plan would be a routine matter, he added.

Victoria and the bondholders, committee were in agreement on the general plan, including the main city amendment which would create an interest equalization fund, he said. He expected word from the bondholders committee prior to the next session of the Legislature, from which permission must be secured if the scheme is to be put into operation this year.

Planes Rush To New Gold Strike

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask.—News of a new gold discovery in the Lac la Ronge area has precipitated a rush by several airplane parties to the point twenty-four miles northeast of the northland village where Adolph Studer, home-steadler who turned prospector two years ago, found samples ranging from $11.55 to $105.35 to the ton.

Studer himself went in by air this morning after recording his find in Regina. Assays were made by the British Columbia government assayer at Nelson, B.C.

At the time of the Hunter incident there were some reports the destroyer had been torpedoed. These were subsequently dispelled on investigation.

In today's move the British Government reserved the right to claim damages.

Church Plants Memorial Oak

Service at St. Aidan's This Morning Commemorates Coronation

To honor Their Majesties on the birthday of King George VI and to commemorate the Coronation year, an oak tree, propagated from an acorn from Great Windsor Park was planted this morning at St. Aidan's Church, Mount Tolmie.

"This tree takes us back a great many years in the history of our country," Rev. T. G. Griffiths, who conducted the service, remarked. "The acorn came from a tree which saw William the Conqueror, the Crusaders and the England of Shakespeare and Chaucer."

It was a link not only with the past but with the present Empire and with future Victorians, he said. The tree would perhaps be remembered as the King's oak long after those present were laid to rest.

Miss Irvine, a charter member of the church and sister of the first white child born on the island, planted the tree, which was grown by William Jennings, florist, from an acorn sent by the Royal Automobile Association, London.

Among the persons who witnessed the planting were Rev. Dr. Christie of Westminster Church, Winnipeg, and Rev. T. Keyworth. The tiny oak will be protected by a fence in the church grounds.

New Soviet Commanders Named in Five Key Zones

MOSCOW—The command of the red army was shaken up today by War Commissar Klement Voroshiloff, who announced appointment of five new commanders in key zones.

MARIENWERDER, East Prussia, Germany—Chancellor Hitler is coming to strategic East Prussia on June 19 to make an important party speech from the historic castle of Marienwerder, seat of Teutonic knights, it was reported on apparently good authority today.

The speech, in so far as could be learned in the secrecy that envelops Hitler's plans, will deal with frontier problems. It will be made before the oldest and highest leaders of the Nazi party and, in all likelihood, will be kept confidential.

Thunder Storm Is Possibility

Showers and Lightning of Last Night May Be Repeated Tonight

Tonight may see a repetition of last night's light thunderstorm and showers, and in general the weather is likely to continue as it is at present for some time, according to W. A. Thorn, director of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory, Gonzales Heights.

The rainfall in Victoria during the night amounted only to seven-hundredths of one inch, Mr. Thorn said this morning. The storm and the squally winds were partly due to high temperatures in Washington and the interior of British Columbia, where the thermometer has stood between 80 and 90 degrees in the shade for the last week, he added.

Yesterday's total eclipse of the sun, the longest in 1,000 years, visible in the south Pacific, could have no effect on weather conditions, the director said this morning.

Last night's thunderstorm, with lightning flashes playing over the waters of the straits, was the most northerly of several which occurred in the Puget Sound region during the last week.

Body of Jean Harlow Placed in Mausoleum at Glendale, Cal.

GLENDAL, Cal.—Brief, impressive and comparatively simple funeral services were held today for Jean Harlow, the platinum-tressed glamour girl of the screen who died at the peak of her fame. The twenty-six-year-old star passed away Monday from uremic poisoning.

Grey, heavy-laden skies, with darkening clouds, matched the heart tones of the close friends of Jean Harlow who gathered at her bier to say farewell.

Through the misty dawn the bronze casket, inlaid with silver, sped the ten miles from Los Angeles to the memorial park here, escorted by police motorcycles.

Three hours later, a thousand persons gathered in hushed silence outside the high iron fence of Forest Lawn. A thousand yards from the gate, in the Wee Kirk o' the Heather was the casket. It was blanketed with 1,500 lilies of the valley, and 500 gardenias, which the actress' (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

Stalin's Mother Dies in Russia

Succumbs at Tiflis in 78th Year; Sister of Lenin Ill

MOSCOW—Ekaterina Georgievna Djughashvili, mother of Joseph Stalin, is dead at her home near Tiflis.

The death of the seventy-seven-year-old woman occurred June 4, but the announcement, made by the Communist party of Georgia in the Tiflis newspaper Dawn of the Orient, reached here only today.

The terse party and government announcements said the immediate causes of her death were pneumonia and a heart attack. She had been ill a long time.

It was not known whether Stalin had gone to the funeral. His last public appearance here was May 31.

Maria Ilinisha Ulianova, fifty-nine, last living sister of Nikolai Lenin, was seriously ill in Moscow today with a paralytic stroke.

After Stalin had paid his mother a surprise visit in 1935, she told interviewers for the official Soviet press she wished every mother could have a son like hers.

"The whole world feels happy because of my son and our country," she said. "He is an exemplary son."

Canada Observes King's Birthday

Salutes Fired; Sovereign Cheered at Trooping of Color in London

OTTAWA—Canada today celebrated the first official birthday of King George VI since his accession to the throne. Throughout the country government offices were closed, Dominion and provincial civil servants enjoyed a holiday. Banks were shut for the day and all schools were closed.

King George was born December 14, 1895. Shortly after he had succeeded his brother, the present Duke of Windsor, His Majesty announced his desire celebration of his birthday should be on June 9.

At noon today a salute of twenty-one guns was fired from Parliament Hill. At all saluting stations throughout the country, from Halifax to Victoria, B.C., similar honors were rendered.

TROOPING OF COLORS

LONDON—In brilliant sunshine one of the most colorful spectacles of British military pageantry—the trooping of the color—was staged today on the historic Horse Guards' Parade in the main observance of the King's official birthday.

Thousands outside Buckingham Palace gates, in the Coronation stands on the Mall and around the ceremonial square, sent up deafening cheers as the King rode along the procession route on a chestnut charger.

The Dominion Meteorological Observatory here is co-operating in collecting weather reports to facilitate a projected trans-polar flight by Soviet aviators from Moscow to San Francisco, W. A. Thorn, director, said today.

The bureau started yesterday collecting data every six hours from points in the Arctic, Yukon, Mackenzie River basin, British Columbia and Alberta, Mr. Thorn said. These are forwarded to Seattle which is broadcasting summaries at 5 a.m., 11 a.m., 5 p.m. and 11 p.m. by short wave.

Mr. Thorn said he was not advised the exact date of the flight. He said the bureau would continue to collect the special reports until advised otherwise.

Definite advice of the projected hop were lacking from Moscow, although it was stated some time ago that establishment of a polar base was a forerunner to such a flight.

VICTORIANS WATCHING The request for special weather information was interpreted here as indicating the flight is planned this week and Victorians may have an opportunity of seeing the plane.

The Associated Press reported that diplomatic sources in Washington, D.C., had said today the Soviet Government planned to sponsor a new trans-polar flight by a Russian aviator from Moscow to San Francisco shortly.

"Officials of the Soviet embassy said they had not been informed of any definite date for a take-off," the dispatch added. They said, however, June was the most favorable month and the Soviet's newly established scientific base in the vicinity of the North Pole would greatly facilitate the undertaking.

"The embassy likewise said it was uninformed concerning other plans for the flight. Recent Moscow dispatches, however, have said if it were made, the pilot would probably be Sigismund (Turn to Page 2, Col. 8)

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy—Pope Pius told a group of Bavarian pilgrims today that conditions in Nazi Germany were "so grave, so menacing and so dangerous" for Catholicism that "they cause one to weep."

"We always have done what is possible to alleviate these great sufferings. We shall continue to do so, no matter what is said of us."

In conclusion, the Holy Father told the pilgrims to remember that "only the way of God and the old faith can give you happiness." He promised to pray for "you and your pastors without stint."

BRITAIN MAY ASK DAMAGES

Sir Henry's protest reminded the insurgents Great Britain previously had advised both sides in the Spanish civil war mine-laying on the high seas was not legitimate since London had accorded neither side belligerent rights.

He pointed out it was improbable the mine the Hunter hit was a floating mine. But even so, he declared, The Hague Convention provided that anchored mines must become harmless when they break from their moorings and unanchored mines must become harmless an hour after they are laid.

GIBRALTAR—When a hole was made in the hull of the British destroyer Hunter by a mine off the coast of Spain that was just the beginning of the vessel's troubles.

The fifteen-months-old ship broke her back in a drydock here and repairs will now cost more than £140,000 ($700,000) and take nearly a year.

mother, Mrs. Marino Bello, and her sweetheart, William Powell, provided.

NELSON EDDY SINGS

One of the first to appear in the little chapel of farewells was Warner Baxter. Soon after him came Carole Lombard, then Clark Gable, leading man in her unfinished picture. Next was Nelson Eddy, whose tribute in the simple services was the singing of "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." With Eddy was his companion, Jeanette MacDonald, in sad but rich voice saying her farewell in Jean Harlow's favorite song, "Indian Love Call."

Soon the 250 close friends had passed through the gate. That was all the police permitted within the memorial park.

There were Lionel Barrymore, Wallace Beery, Billie Burke, Virginia Bruce, Joan Crawford, Ronald Colman, Sid Grauman, Myrna Loy, Una Merkel, Ramon Navarro, Chester Morris, Maurice O'Sullivan, Mae Robson, Charles Rogers, Rosalind Russell, Norma Shearer, Robert Young, Spencer Tracy, Joan Bennett, Kay Francis, Robert Benchley, Madge Evans, Elissa Landi, Edna May Oliver, Lewis Stone and others.

Brief was the Christian Science service read by Mrs. Genevieve Smith, for seven years confidante of the actress.

The pallbearers escorting the casket to the mausoleum were those with whom the glamour girl had worked — Clark Gable, Edward J. Mannix, M-G-M executive; Hunt Stromberg, producer; Jack Conway and W. S. Van Dyne, directors, and Ray June, cameraman.

SIMPLE SERVICE

The services were simple and brief. In less than twenty minutes they were completed.

Mrs. Smith read the simple service and then spoke a thirty-eight-second eulogy.

"There isn't anyone here that knows Jean but knows the nobility of the soul she possesses," the last trust at the casket in the chapel was held by the mother, with William Powell, at one side and Carey Wilson, screen writer and intimate friend, on the other. Between the two men the mother slowly emerged from the chapel to their car.

She seemed braver than the men. Tears were seen behind the dark glasses the usually suave William Powell wore. He gave vent to his grief when he sank to the seat of the car beside Jean's mother.

The floral tributes were greater than the chapel could contain. Wreaths, blankets and a wealth of gorgeous blossoms were spread on the lawn outside the wee kirk. One floral tribute was a single white gardenia, her favorite flower on the card attached to it, without signature was the pathetic script, "Good night, my dearest darling."

NEW STRIKES TODAY IN U.S.

Two Michigan Auto Plants and Power Company Affected By Walkouts

NEW YORK—Strikes at two Michigan automotive plants and a power company added new complications today to United States industrial conflict.

At Flint members of the United Automobile Workers' Union pulled switches at the Consumers' Power Company plant. In Detroit the Budd Wheel Company and two Tarnstedt Manufacturing Co. plants were closed.

The reasons assigned for each strike were the same. Unionists charged the companies were stalling in negotiations in wage adjustments and other union demands.

An estimated 3,500 workers sat down at the Tarnstedt plants, units of General Motors Corporation. About 1,500 of the 2,600 Budd Company workers walked out. Union leaders said abolition of piece work was a principal issue.

LABOR LAW INVOKED

CHICAGO—The United States Wagner Labor Disputes Act was invoked for the first time in the bloody, far-flung steel strike today, when union attorneys drafted a formal complaint accusing the Inland Steel Company of violating the act through unfair labor practices.

Van A. Bittner, Chicago regional director for the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee, said the complaint would be filed today with the local office of the National Labor Relations Board.

The strike at Inland, the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company affecting 73,000 workers in seven states started two weeks ago.

Bittner said that even if the union lost in its fight before the labor board, "the strike will go on until we get signed collective bargaining agreement."

Indications that the other side was as equally determined to hold its ground came when Mayor Edward J. Kelly announced the Republic Steel Corporation had applied to the city building department for a permit to remodel a wire mill warehouse on its property for dormitory purposes.

Berlin Officials Say Germany and Italy Back in Line in Few Days

BERLIN (AP)—Official quarters expressed confidence today Germany and Italy would resume participation in the Spanish non-intervention patrol before the end of this week.

The German ambassador at London, Joachim von Ribbentrop, will return to his post today and is expected to confer with Foreign Secretary Eden tomorrow. During Von Ribbentrop's stay in Germany he discussed the non-intervention situation thoroughly with Hitler. He also was in repeated conference with Konstantin von Neurath, foreign minister, and other leaders.

PLANES FROM ITALY

VALENCIA, Spain—The Spanish government posted today a "special vigilance fleet" off the Catalan coast after Barcelona, capital of Autonomous Catalonia, had reported two cruisers were harassing shore points for the second successive day.

Defence Minister Indalecio Prieto asserted new Italian seaplanes had arrived Monday to reinforce the Italian squadron already in Mallorcan waters. The arrivals, he declared, gave "new proof of the force of the non-intervention pact."

MADRID—Government troops fortified newly-won positions today along the Coruna road, at the northwestern edge of Madrid.

Madrid itself relaxed only a trifle from three insurgent shellings in which at least twenty persons were killed and forty injured.

Baldwin Takes Seat in Lords

Traditional Ceremony As Former British Prime Minister Presented

LONDON—With traditional and picturesque ceremony, Earl Baldwin of Bewdley took his seat in the House of Lords today.

One of the largest attendances in years packed the Upper Chamber to watch the ceremony.

Sir Gerald Wollaston, Garter Principal King of Arms, dressed in a mediaeval tabard on which the arms of England were richly embroidered in gold, scarlet and blue, led the procession into the chamber. Behind him came the Earl Marshal, the Duke of Norfolk, and the Lord Great Chamberlain, the Earl of Ancaster, in their robes of state.

Then followed Earl Baldwin, between Lord Londonderry and the Earl of Derby, who sponsored him, each in crimson robes crossed with minever bands and carrying a cocked hat.

The ex-Premier appeared strange in his new garb. He stroked his forehead meditatively as he stood beside a clerk reading the words summoning him to Parliament.

Lady Baldwin watched from Black Rod's box, not having access to the peeresses' gallery until the ceremony was concluded.

VISCOUNT SAMUEL SEATED

Sir Herbert Samuel, former leader of the Liberal Party, who was created a peer in the Coronation honors, took his seat later as Viscount Samuel. Viscount Samuel is determined to seek abolition of the hereditary principle of choosing its members.

In a letter to the president of the Darwin Division Liberal Association, a division he formerly represented in the Commons, Lord Samuel said:

"I have in no degree changed the view which I have declared throughout my political life, that the hereditary principle is utterly wrong as the method of choosing the members of any legislative assembly. I should always use my voice and vote in favor of its abolition."

GIRL'S MEMORY BLANK IN HUNT

Diana Battye Safe After Being Missing Eight Days in London

LONDON—Scotland Yard sought today to learn Diana Battye's own story of her strange eight-day disappearance that ended in sobbing collapse on a London doorstep.

The twenty-one-year-old society girl was found early today, slumped on a step next door to the home of her fiancé, Michael Asquith.

"She was not able to give an account of what had happened to her," said a friend of the family, in relating that "Didi," as her intimates knew "England's most photographed beauty," seemed on the verge of a nervous collapse. She was placed under doctors' care in the home of Michael's mother, Lady Cynthia Asquith. Diana's mother, Mrs. Leonard Hackett, well-known airwoman, said:

"The main thing is my daughter is safe. She is naturally very distressed and the doctors say she is suffering from a severe nervous breakdown."

GIVES NO AID

Her stepfather, Leonard Hackett, said "Didi's" mind was a "complete blank" and she could offer no aid in solving the mystery of her disappearance. He said she "remembers nothing at all."

Mr. Asquith kept a vigil at her bedside as she lay in his mother's home in a deep sleep.

Young Asquith, grandson of the late Lord Asquith, had disclosed to police he had received a letter containing a threat to "remove" Diana unless he took better care of her.

Apparently the photographer's model, who had aspired to motion picture stardom, had been walking the streets of London while police scoured the British Isles for her.

The mystery was heightened, however, when it was learned Diana was not wearing the same dress she wore when she was last seen before her disappearance June 1 from the home of her childhood friend, Viscountess Long, where she had been staying for the gay Coronation season.

THREATS IN LETTERS

She had been worried for some weeks by a series of anonymous threatening letters. On Coronation night, Lady Long disclosed, Diana was the victim of a strange assault by an unknown man who slashed her above the eye with a razor.

There was some speculation there may have been a lovers' quarrel and "Didi" returned after seeing the advertisement.

SETTLEMENT AFTER INQUIRY

VANCOUVER—Wilfred A. Tucker, former police court accountant whose charges against officials and members of the city force led to a formal commission investigation last year, and his own discharge from office, today accepted a city council offer of three months' salary in settlement of his wage claim of roughly $700.

Decision to offer Tucker $410 in settlement was made at a special meeting of the finance committee late yesterday, after G. W. Gibbans, head of the City Councilors' League and Tucker's champion during the investigation last year, had asked the aldermen to appoint a committee of trustees to administer a city-donated fund of $1,000 on Tucker's behalf.

Previously, Dr. Lyle Telford, M.P.E., provincial president of Co-operative Commonwealth Federation and Tucker's personal physician, had told the finance committee the frail accountant was dying of cancer of the lungs and would not live more than a month.

Conditions of last night's finance committee offer of $410 included signature by Tucker of a document waiving all further claims against the city, and submission of a medical certificate showing his physical condition as dangerous as it was described.

Scientists Take Eclipse Films

Pictures Obtained From Peru, Canton Island and Plane 25,000 Feet Up

HUAREZ, Peru—The greatest eclipse of the sun in 1,200 years was captured in three films by Prof. Charles H. Smiley of Brown University.

"The sky in the vicinity of the sun was perfectly clear," said Prof. Smiley, who hopes to obtain from the films evidence of how far from the sun the corona extends, and whether its light is emitted or reflected.

Prof. Smiley said that although the films were not developed he felt certain his observations had been successful.

LIMA, Peru—Major Albert W. Stevens, United States army aviator, observing Tuesday's solar eclipse for the American Museum of Natural History, reported by radio he had reached a height of 25,000 feet, kept his plane in path of totality about three and a half minutes, and had achieved splendid results in wonderful visibility.

Major Stevens said his four cameras functioned well, and he recorded both motion and still pictures of the sun's corona and of the approaching and departing shadow. During totality he was flying above the Pacific Ocean between Trujillo and Chimbote.

CHOICE DEMANDED

BERLIN—The official organ of Chancellor Hitler's picked Schutz Staffels guards called on Pope Pius today to come to Germany and find out for himself the facts of the breach between the Catholic church and the Nazi government.

The paper's article followed an official press demand that Germans choose between Hitler and the Vatican.

"We must now demand one single decision," the government-controlled Westdeutscher Beobachter at Cologne Tuesday said editorially. "Are you willing to obey Adolf Hitler more than a church government which long ago became a secular power?"

The "SS" paper invited the Pope to come to Germany "and convince himself with his own eyes on conditions in Germany and decide who tells the truth and who does not."

Scientists Take Eclipse Films

Nazi lips generally were sealed after the premature Marienwerder announcement and for a time it was thought the publicity might have caused cancellation of the visit.

Rumors were that Hitler might announce annexation of the Free City of Danzig. The Nazis now have about a two-thirds majority in the free city's Parliament, for the German nationalists have made their peace with the regime and several Socialists have deserted their camp and gone over to the Nazis.

The Nazis therefore are in a position to throw overboard the constitution of the free state, as approved by the League of Nations, and to convert Danzig into an authoritarian state like the Reich.

It is therefore suspected in some foreign quarters Hitler might wave aside any rights the League of Nations may have, standing aviators.

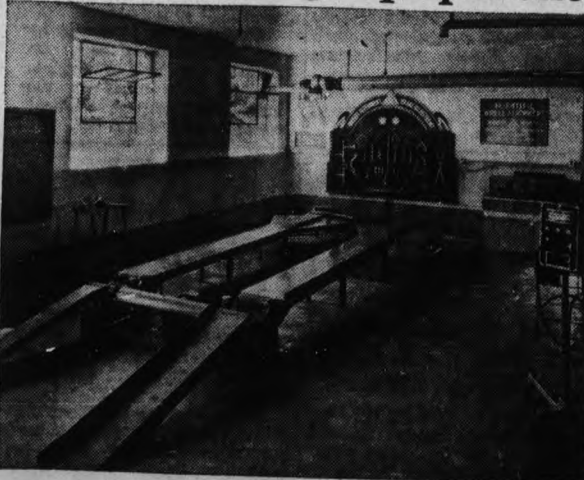

"Diplomatic sources said Soviet government authorities would look to the flight to demonstrate the feasibility of a regular commercial airway linking Soviet Russia and the United States."

MOSCOW—The four airplanes used by the Soviet Union to establish a North Pole wintering camp were reunited today at Rudolf Island, the expedition's base 560 miles from the Pole. They will be flown to the mainland soon.

One of the transports, piloted by A. I. Alexieff, which had been grounded about 200 miles short of its goal on the return to Rudolf Island, reached the base last night after Pilot M. Golovin had carried fuel to it.

The other three transports reached the base Sunday after Alexieff had shared his gasoline supply with them.

Brake-Testing Equipment

Realizing the urgent need of absolute precision and perfection in the brakes of the modern car, The Motor House (Victoria) Limited, have installed the very latest word in scientific brake-testing equipment. This unit, for it takes the form of a platform on to which the car is driven, also includes the Bendix-Peragen wheel alignment equipment.

For an accurate reading of the precise condition of the brakes, the car is driven on to a platform, and the brakes are pitted against the pull of a moving roller which turns the wheel. The individual performance of each brake on the car is automatically recorded on dials, which are in plain view. In this way it is possible for the mechanic to instantly detect such defects as "out-of-round" brake drums, poor or worn brake linings or other similar troubles. He is enabled to make perfectly synchronized adjustments on each wheel, insuring smooth, positive action of the brakes. It is becoming more and more imperative that the adjustment of brakes should be removed from the possibility of human error and placed in the field of scientific certainty. Greater road speeds, smaller wheels and consequently greater heat generated, place a strain on brakes which calls for absolute perfection.

The wheel alignment equipment is designed to automatically gauge the abrasive action and to check steering geometry. The car is driven on to a set of plates and turntables which instantly record any deviation from the true, accomplishing a tremendous saving in tire wear.

Protest Japan's Alaska Fishing

Fishermen, Claiming Alaska Salmon Industry Will Be Ruined, Want Action

SAN FRANCISCO—Officials of the Alaska Fishermen's Union here announced they had sent to Washington, D.C., a telegraphic protest that Japanese fishermen are ruining the Alaska salmon industry.

The protest was dispatched after Andrew Vigan, secretary of the union, received a telegram from Paul Gerhardt, union delegate, and Edward Coffey of the Alaska Territorial Legislature and member of the union.

Appeals were sent by Vigan to Senators Johnson of California and Schwellenbach of Washington.

The telegram from Naknek, Alaska, said: "Japanese are destroying Bristol Bay red salmon run. Now over twenty-six big boats, also numerous smaller boats, fishing close to shore." The message added: "Take matter up with Maritime Federation and have cargo originating Japan boycotted."

It concluded: "Japanese are jeopardizing thousands of jobs and millions of invested capital; also destroying feed of fish. These fish originate in American waters. This condition, allowed to exist five years, salmon run will be destroyed."

Vigan said the matter would be discussed at the convention of the Maritime Federation of the Pacific, in session at Portland.

Canadian Awarded Leffingwell Medal

WINNIPEG—In recognition of outstanding accomplishment in the field of office management, the Leffingwell medal was presented to C. U. Stapleton, manager of office services of the Canadian National Railways, at the annual meeting of the National Office Management Association in Chicago.

Mr. Stapleton joined the National system in 1919 as office-method expert. In 1923 he became supervisor of office methods and was responsible for the designing and installation of a railroad subject filing system for operating offices. This is now being used in over 700 offices throughout the entire National system.

Mr. Stapleton was appointed manager of office services in 1927, and also given charge of operating a printed-forms control plan. Approximately 150,000 copies of 7,500 forms are required annually in the operation of a transcontinental railway system of this size, including hotels, steamships, commercial telegraph and express services.

Mr. Stapleton was president of the National Office Management Association during 1934-35, and has been a member of that organization since 1923.

Bus Service To Vancouver

Reception of the popular bus and ferry, cutting to Vancouver and mainland points by way of the Vancouver and Coach Lines, and Sidney-Stevedore ferry and the Stevedore-Vancouver interurban railway that was popular during the last three summers, has been announced for Saturday, June 12, by the local bus company.

A one-day excursion to Vancouver will be featured every Saturday during the summer season, officials stated. This extra service will prove most convenient to those who wish to spend the day at the mainland city. The interurban railway passes the gates of both the Landsdowne and Brighouse tracks on its way to Vancouver. Passengers will leave Victoria at 7:45 a.m., arrive in Vancouver at 1 p.m., and leaving there at 6 p.m. arrive back in Victoria at 11 p.m. the same day.

The week-day service is operated twice daily from Victoria, the bus leaving the Broughton Street depot at 7:45 a.m. and 3 p.m., arriving in Vancouver five hours later. A return trip is scheduled from Vancouver at 11 a.m. daily, arriving in Victoria at 5:15 p.m.

Excursion Tour To Hudson Bay

Canada has rolled back the tourist map to bring within easy reach that land of the Eskimo and Indian which lies "north of fifty-four." This region may be visited by taking the Canadian National Railways fifth annual all-inclusive bargain excursion tour, according to C. W. Johnston, general passenger traffic manager of the company.

This tour, including rail fare, lower tourist berth and dining car meals, will leave Winnipeg August 13 and proceed to The Pas. Going northwestward, a side trip will be made to Flin Flon. Leaving Flin Flon early August 15, the tour is resumed to Churchill, where arrival is made at 9 a.m. on August 16. At Churchill, a stop of twenty-four hours will be made to permit the party to visit the youngest seaport on the continent; see ships load and depart for overseas and visit historic Fort Prince of Wales.

FELTRE SOLD FOR $55,000

Pacific Salvage Company Has Largest Claim On Italian Ship

PORTLAND, Ore.—The Italian motorship Feltre, which sank in the Columbia River near Longview, Wash., last February after a collision with a Luckenbach freighter, was sold at public auction yesterday by United States Marshal J. T. Summerville for $55,000 to the Pacific American Fisheries.

The bid, one of two submitted, must be confirmed by federal court, before which claimants seeking $300,000 from the vessel's owners, had brought actions forcing the sale.

Archie W. Shields, president of Pacific American Fisheries, indicated the vessel, if the sale is confirmed by the court, will be used in the Alaska-Northwest fishing trade, operating out of Portland and Puget Sound.

The Pacific Salvage Company, which patched a 250-foot hole in the Feltre's side, raised her from the river bed and towed her to drydock here, has the largest claim, $200,000. The Luckenbach Line, with one whose boats the Feltre was in collision, has the second largest claim, $75,000.

At the time of the collision the Feltre was owned by the Libera Line. Her building cost was estimated at $1,000,000.

$150,000,000 Construction Programme Within Next Year Considered

WASHINGTON—The administration asked today for a new, subsidized fleet of ninety-five passenger and cargo vessels to build up lagging merchant marine of the United States.

President Roosevelt recommended Congress provide $150,000,000 to start construction at once, and authorize the Maritime Commission to sign $150,000,000 in construction contracts next year.

"For us, an adequate merchant marine has to be a new merchant marine," the President said.

Chairman Joseph P. Kennedy of the Maritime Commission promptly outlined a programme for construction of sixty cargo vessels, twenty-four passenger-cargo ships, ten high-speed tankers and one big liner to replace the Leviathan.

Private companies are ready to build twenty-eight ships in the next eighteen months to three years, Kennedy said. Other vessels could be built either by the government for leasing or by private companies.

If congress adopts the programme, it would give effect to the newly-approved policy of direct subsidies for shipping as contrasted with previous indirect subsidies through ocean mail contracts.

Suffered With Sciatica for 25 Years

Those who are subject to sciatica should read this letter from one who suffered for years before she found out how to obtain relief.

"For 25 years I suffered from sciatica in my right side, and I had backaches which forced me to remain in bed for two or three weeks at a time. When I got up in the mornings, my arms and legs used to pain me almost unbearably. One day I heard of Kruschen Salts. I took a bottle of them without feeling much improvement. I tried a second bottle, and that time I felt better. I have kept on taking Kruschen ever since." (Mrs.) H. L. The pains of sciatica are frequently caused by an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are notable for their work in dissolving uric acid. Other ingredients of these salts assist the internal organs to expel the dissolved acid from the system.

Let Trade Flow

THERE IS A COMMONSENSE DESIRE to extend trade between the various states which compose the British Commonwealth of Nations. That is sound, if elementary, economics, but the Empire statesmen sitting round the conference table in London assuredly will not approve any suggestion that there shall be a stiffening of the economic nationalism which for several years has been crippling the international business world.

There always will be, of course, that element in Great Britain which will want to keep alive the fires of "Tariff Reform" which the followers of Henry Campbell-Bannerman extinguished at the end of 1905. In the general election of that year the issue was a clear-cut one—Tariff Reform under the aegis of the Tariff Reform League of which Mr. Joseph Chamberlain was the guiding spirit and inspiration as opposed to Free Trade of the old, and still solid, no matter what tariff tinkers may say, Manchester School.

Mr. Campbell-Bannerman formed a government in the early days of 1906 with so large a majority that it enabled him to put through many economic and other reforms—not forgetting the Act of Union which bound South Africa in firm friendship to the rest of the British Commonwealth of Nations. It was a Free Trade government, and during its operation British trade with the world expanded enormously, the outbreak of the Great War dislocating everything.

The die-hard British high-tariff apostles had better make up their minds to the fact that Canada—we are not presuming to speak for the rest of the Dominions and Colonies—has for her neighbor a friendly country of 130,000,000 people with whom she lives in peace and enjoys a profitable exchange of commodities under innumerable heads. Naturally desirous of increasing the effect of the imperial trade treaties negotiated at Ottawa in 1932, Prime Minister Mackenzie King does not propose to tie this country's hands to an imperial Zollverein which would operate to its disadvantage.

And it will be remembered that former Prime Minister Baldwin of Great Britain made the frank statement at the Ottawa Conference that no matter into what agreements the British delegation might be persuaded to enter—a sane stand to take—this country would reserve to itself the right to deal in its own way with the rest of the world.

After the British delegation returned to England from Ottawa negotiations were begun with various Continental European countries with the object of expanding trade. Several were successfully concluded. They are still in effect. The former King Edward the Eighth, then Prince of Wales, went down to South America and put over a good job of salesmanship. Mainly from that expedition he earned his title as the "British Empire's Expert Salesman." All of which meant more trade.

Far be it from us to tell the die-hard Tariff Reformers of Britain what they should or should not do. But the fact remains that, as far as Canada is concerned, at any rate, we are after business, because the more business we can get, the more people will find employment. We do not propose to be "fussy" about our customers.

They Are Tories Now

NATIONAL LIBERAL MEMBERS of the British House of Commons yesterday passed unanimously a resolution of "complete confidence" in Sir John Simon, the party's leader, recently elevated to the important post of Chancellor of the Exchequer in succession to Mr. Neville Chamberlain, now Prime Minister.

There is no reason at all, of course, why the National Liberal members of the House of Commons should not give Sir John Simon their "complete confidence." That eminent jurist, now holding Britain's purse strings, is no longer a Liberal, any more than his "National Liberal" colleagues are Liberals. He and they are just as Tory as is the new Prime Minister. The only difference is that Premier Chamberlain never has been a Liberal and has never apologized for his adherence to the Tory faith. That is all to his credit.

The implied claim that those former Liberals, turned Conservative, changed their coats for the benefit of their country held good at a time of crisis. There was one statesman, however, like them, changed his political coat and allowed it to cover his political shoulders only for the period of that crisis. He was the late Viscount Snowden.

Prolific Letter Writers

A WRITER IN A RECENT ISSUE of Harper's Magazine remarked that our modern business man is becoming the most prolific of all the world's letter writers. He writes more letters, writes longer letters and in general expresses himself on paper more freely than any other of the earth's creatures—with the possible exception of the loquacious Spaniard.

Now it is this magazine writer's belief that the cause of all this is not so much a profound urge for self-expression on the part of the business man as it is the uncanny skill and efficiency of the average office typist. For it is certain that the most impressive single feature of a great many business offices is the stenographer. She is certain to be trim, alert and business-like, and she is more than likely to be very good to look at; and in any case she shares with such diverse professionals as trained nurses, printers, aviators and steamship captains an air of cool, unemotional competence—sure harbinger that any upcoming job will be handled capably and without fuss.

Install a man in an office with such a creature at his beck and call and what happens? He immediately, and inevitably, becomes a great letter writer. He could not do less, if he has a heart. For who, given direction of an instrument perfectly adapted to the performance of a given job can fail to see that the instrument must be kept busy? So the business man is driven to composition. He is in the grip of a force mightier than he is. The stenographer's notebook and typewriter are inexorable. If the young woman has to sit idle and study the red varnish on her fingernails it is an undying reproach to him.

Thus we get this spate of business letters remarked upon by the writer in Harper's. A good half of them, probably, could remain unwritten without any loss to the world of commerce; the rest could very likely be half as long as they are and still do their work. But in that case dust would settle on altogether too many typewriters. It is unthinkable.

Baldwin of Bewdley

FORMER PRIME MINISTER Stanley Baldwin has gone to Great Britain's "red chamber" as Earl Baldwin of Bewdley and Viscount Corvedale. It was natural that he should choose Bewdley for his premier title. That is the old Worcestershire riding he has represented at Westminster for nearly thirty years. He has been faithful to his constituents all through that time. His opponents in Parliament have disagreed with him on many issues of national and international importance. But not even his bitterest critic ever has had the temerity to try to penetrate his armor of solid honesty with the poisoned javelin of narrow partisanship.

Earl Baldwin of Bewdley will assume his new role in the House of Lords with that same quiet dignity which has marked the conscientious manner in which he has discharged his important duties in the House of Commons. Political friends and political opponents alike will wish him good health and contentment in the life ahead of him—and, we may be sure, he will extend to them that hearty Worcestershire greeting, "Good Neighborhood!"

Unpardonable Sin

A NEW YORK TIMES DISPATCH, telling of the arrival in England of some 3,800 children from war-racked Bilbao, contains some fearfully tragic paragraphs. As, for instance, this:

"It was not the children's physical condition, however, that caused most concern. . . . The saddest by-product of the Spanish civil war is their overwrought mental condition, brought about by the terror of the air raids. The war has left many of them abnormally nervous, perhaps for the rest of their lives. They have spent hour after hour huddled in 'refugees' with their frightened mothers while Rebel airplanes dived overhead, dropping bombs. . . . Scores have seen brothers, sisters or little friends killed or maimed near their homes."

Can any sensitive person read that without feeling that the bombing of an inhabited town—by anyone, in any land—is one of the most shocking crimes of all the ages?

Railway Duplication Again?

A RAILWAY BUILDING RACE TO tap the Noranda-Val D'Or area has raised a fresh discussion over paralleling and competitive construction which the depression revealed as being so extravagantly wasteful.

At a cost of $5,000,000 the C.N.R. is now building from Noranda and Rouyn to Senneterre. The Quebec-Legislature has approved the construction by the C.P.R. of a competing line. The Toronto Star declares the area would be sufficiently served by the C.N.R. line without the construction of a rival line leading to Montreal rather than Toronto.

"The C.N.R. and the T. & N.O. were the first to build into these mining camps and they should be permitted to reap the benefit of expanding traffic, otherwise the country may have to put up with two more non-profitable stretches of line in place of one, which would have become a money-maker with the field to itself," The Star Says. "In the last analysis it is the public that pays. When this country is staggering under the burden of its railway debt and when governments have to assist in one way or another both great steam railway systems it would be little short of criminal to allow sectional desires and railway rivalry to develop another orgy of duplication."

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

IN HOLLAND.

BIG NIGHT

THE BAND is playing in Eindhoven to-night. All the good people of this old Dutch town are standing out in the cobblestone market-square listening to the musicians as they perspire in their little green band stand, the base drummer half hidden by the smoke cloud of his black cigar. But if you didn't know you might think they were a crowd in Ottawa, Winnipeg, or Victoria—except, perhaps, for the cigar in every man's mouth and the girls' faces all innocent of paint.

That is what amazes you about Holland—it is the most up-to-date little country in the world. There are still windmills, with four arms spread across the sky, and canals where the bat barges laze, and stone doors by the water side where old women in lace caps sit gossiping in the shade and occasionally a peasant riding a bicycle with woden shoes. But everywhere the people are dressed as in America, the buildings are of the ultra-modern design and there is over all of Holland an air of brisk prosperity which you notice as soon as you cross the Belgian border.

ONE OF THE MOST unfortunate illusions suffered by us in America is the notion that we are a century or two ahead of Europe. Drive through Holland for one day and you'll begin to wonder if it isn't a century ahead of us in all the essential things of life. Where man has touched America it is usually to blight and destroy. Where the Dutch have touched Holland it is invariably to caress and ornament and improve, while England, tended as it is by hands that love its last blade of grass is, by comparison, a wilderness.

Holland is so small and everything in it so new and shiny that you would think you were in a land of toys, of towns built with gaily-colored blocks from a child's nursery. Thrifty Holland, careful to keep out of the war, has prospered so well during the world's long misery that apparently every man in it could build a new house and he has built it exactly according to his own taste, regardless of his neighbor's, until every house is different—a weird chaos of gingerbread houses each with some monstrous tower or swelling of the roof or protuberance of the wall, or perhaps a green iron drawbridge over the tiny canal beside the front garden.

TOYS, all of them, and painted in bright, garish colors like boys, in reds and greens and yellows, glistening with tile all over. And the people are like children playing with their toys. On this Sunday the whole nation seemed to have mounted a bicycle and gone into the country—everybody laughing and talking together, eating picnics in the lush grass beside the canals, drinking beer in front of village inns. The old people, in black Sunday clothes, ride staidly along, single file, and the boys and girls ride side by side, hand in hand, a pleasant custom which you can master and enjoy after a few years' practice.

And everywhere around the toy houses and the toy villages and beside the toy boats in the toy canal they have planted and tended their country until there isn't a yard of it wasted or neglected, the whole less like a landscape than a picture of one, less like an actual countryside than one of those children's games where you throw dice and advance or retreat over a series of squares.

THROWING the dice at random this morning, we swung up through Amsterdam, a city of noble boulevards and canals full of little sleek, low-lying boats cutting through the middle of the business streets. Then up to The Hague with its ghastly round-towered Peace Palace, well conceived for the grim jest it was to play in history, and eastward along roads where the great elm trees arched over head for twenty miles at a stretch and on every side the windmills were black crosses on the blue horizon. And down through old Utrecht and Hertogenbosch where a policeman with a sword rushed after our car to rescue us from a "verboden" one-way street.

Everywhere we found the country laid out in a way to make our North American cities and country roads mean and stingy. No town is too small for its little square of fine old trees and in the larger places all the main streets are three times as wide as Fifth Avenue, shaded by ancient elms and oaks, with open-air cafes along the pavement.

THE DUTCH seem to have imitated all the good in American civilization—the modern home, the automobile, good plumbing, sanitation—without any of its evils, without its mad rush, its restlessness and its discontent. They have modernized and mechanized their little toy country, but they still keep it as shiny and as delightful as a toy and they treat it as a toy, to be handled carefully, to be fondled and painted up. Even the canal boats have nasturtiums and pansies growing in little boxes on the decks and flower pots full of red geraniums fastened to the tillers. These are the poor ignorant Europeans, the mad people who are forever plunging the world into war, the people who are a hundred years behind us.

Tonight they are having a good time in Eindhoven and in every Dutch town. The head of the family is dressed in his bowler and black coat, his wife in her best, the sons and daughters like American boys and girls. They have walked down to the market square and ordered beer and soda water for the youngsters on the pavement cafe, and they are listening to the town band playing in a curious tinkling fashion like a child's toy music box. The lovers stroll about arm in arm. The drummer perspires and puffs his cigar and glimmers under the electric light. Everybody is happy, having a big night on one glass of beer. It is disappointing to find not a single pantaloons among them or in all Holland, but they are still a century away from us—which way, I wonder?—and as the little band puffs its climax and stops, the crowd disappears from the market place in a moment as if someone had gathered up all the toys and put them away for the night.

Ocean Speed Queens

From The New York Times

WITH news that a pair of new propellers will be fitted on the in-board shafts of the liner Queen Mary during an eight or nine-day docking period early in July, attention is again drawn to the seaway race for speed supremacy between the Cunard White Star flagship and the French Line's Normandie.

This change—the third to be made in the set of four gigantic and costly propellers that drive the great British ship, all within the first year of her life—poses the question: What are the factors that determine and limit the speed of passenger ships?

No two vessels could be better models to illustrate and test opposing theories of speed design than the giant pair that now stand alone in the top bracket of transoceanic racing and have been alternating for a year in the position of "fastest ship." In three of the four elements that decide how rapidly a hull can move through water they are radically different. Only in length are the two approximately the same.

LENGTH, strength, form, lightness and power are essentials of speed. The Queen Mary and the Normandie are each about the extreme feasible with the North Atlantic's present berthing docks and dry docks. The French boat is 1,029 feet over all; the Queen Mary measures about ten feet less. But the Normandie has more overhang at bow and stern, and her rival is something over twenty feet longer on the water line.

The Normandie is radical in her bow structure. Afloat she seems to have an even sharper water line section forward than does the Queen Mary, but she really has a bulbous bow, the bulb being deep under water at her forefoot. The chief function of the curious swelling is to provide the buoyancy lost by the big ship's "hollow" water line forward. Another innovation in the Normandie's lines is her vertical frame section at the water line, aimed to reduce wake.

The Normandie's hull plan is modeled on the so-called Yourkevitch design, the work of Vladimir Yourkevitch, a former officer in the Imperial Russian Navy, now living in the United States.

LIGHTNESS has been achieved to a great extent through improvement in engineering design. Horsepower per ton of engine in the newest liners is about double that obtainable twenty-five years ago because of improvements in thermodynamic design. Readers who noted that the gross tonnage of the French liner had been increased last winter so that it exceeded that of the Queen Mary may have assumed that this had something to do with weight, but gross tonnage is an arbitrary and highly technical rating based on measurement of certain interior spaces. The Queen Mary's displacement is 77,500 tons, the displacement of the Normandie 67,500 tons.

So, being heavier, and having more hull to push through the water, the Queen Mary needs more power to attain the same speed. And when built she had more power by about 25 per cent, her rated horsepower being 185,000, compared with an original rating of 160,000 in the Normandie. However, during last winter's overhaul, in preparation for her successful assault in March on the "blue ribbon" record, sixteen extra steam nozzles were installed on the French liner. Marine engineers say the Normandie has developed 179,000 horsepower, and that the Queen Mary's log shows she has used a maximum of about 189,000 horsepower.

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S VERDICT

From The Ottawa Journal
British Columbia's voters have decided to retain Liberal Premier Pattullo's government for another five years and to give the province's 100,000-odd workers a "comprehensive scheme" of medical insurance.

The last decision is more important than the first. Just how this medical scheme will work out remains to be seen, but the experiment will bear watching. It is to be financed by a 2 per cent. tax on the earnings of workers and a 1 per cent tax on employers, will take in all workers earning less than $1,800 a year.

SPEAKS HERE ON TEACHING

Dr. Clement Spurling, Music Examiner, Says Personality Needed

Methods of teaching music were only means to an end, with common sense the basis of all, and personality of a teacher counted more than anything else, Dr. Clement Spurling, examiner of the Royal School of Music, told a group of Victoria music teachers in an informal talk at the Y.W.C.A. yesterday evening.

Dr. Spurling stressed the inestimable value of sight reading, ear training, technique and imagination in teaching piano. He remarked there had been an almost tragic neglect of sight reading, and that he had found that phase of teaching at a low ebb wherever he had conducted examinations.

As Dr. Spurling's remarks dealt mainly with methods he had used successfully in teaching beginners, his talk was of exceptional interest and value to the local teachers. Dr. Richard Felton introduced the speaker.

Says Nanaimo Water Tainted

Hospital Analyst Reports On Unhealthy Condition to City Council

NANAIMO—Cleaning out of the Chase River to purify its water supply, which has been declared by Dr. Darling, Nanaimo Hospital analyst, to contain bacteria of faecal origin, will be urged upon provincial authorities by the Nanaimo City Council.

At a meeting on Tuesday evening Mr. Darling reported to the council he had recently tested a tap supply and found the water to contain a high degree of pollution. He urged that the city discontinue use of the Chase River supply immediately.

Alderman Drake, of the waterworks committee, said the discontinuance of this supply had already been dealt with, but he felt the provincial health officer should be notified of the Chase River condition as it was located in unorganized territory under provincial control.

Alderman Inkster urged that the government should be asked to clean the river up and assist the city by bringing in water from the South Forks dam.

United Church Pastor Feted

Gifts Presented to Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Horton at Farewell Party

Rev. E. W. Horton, for the last two years assistant pastor of First United Church, and Mrs. Horton last night received the farewell wishes of a large number of the members of the congregation, who gathered in the church schoolroom for a reception.

Mr. Horton leaves today for his new pastorate at Murrayville. Presentations were made to the departing couple by the church and various organizations with which Mr. Horton was connected. Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, pastor of First United, presided at the reception, and James Strang delivered the farewell address, speaking of the work of Mr. Horton during his term in Victoria and of the high esteem in which he had been held by the congregation.

SILVERWARE GIFT
The gift of the congregation, a chest of silverware, was presented to Mrs. Horton by Mrs. A. S. Christie, Mrs. J. B. Muir and the presentation of a silver casserole on behalf of Group B of the Women's Association.

Mrs. A. C. Chisholm handed to Mr. Horton a life membership in the Women's Missionary Society and a pin symbolizing the same honor to Mrs. Horton, in recognition of their interest in missionary work.

A case of teaspoons was presented to the couple by the Golden Link Missionary Auxiliary through Miss N. M. McKilican.

GIFTS FOR BABY
Young Betty Horton, baby daughter of the pastor, received a silver cup from Miss C. Crawford, on behalf of the C.G.I.T., and a baby bank with a substantial deposit in it from Mrs. A. S. Christie, on behalf of the congregation.

During the evening a social reception was also held for newly-arrived members of the congregation, with addresses by Professor E. S. Farr and Alderman W. T. Straith. A musical programme concluded the evening, with George H. Peaker, pianist, featured.

Want to Keep Traffic Moving

In a general campaign to clean up minor infractions of city ordinances dealing with traffic regulations, the city police this morning warned motorists that double parking in the business sections of the city must stop.

With a steady increase in the number of tourists in the city, and the resultant congestion of traffic, Police Chief Heatley and Inspector Boulton, in charge of traffic, said the double parking practice must stop.

The warning is part of the police campaign to keep traffic moving in the city in order that all possible parking space will be made available.

Another infraction which police intend to curb is the habit of cyclists to ride on footpaths in the outlying districts. Complaints have been received from pedestrians.

Reports on amendments to the association's constitution, on a successful dance held at Lake Hill and on plans for the annual picnic in July were submitted. W. H. Carr, president, was in the chair.

GLEEMEN SING FOR KIWANIS

Mass Choir From Eugene, Oregon, Gives Programme at Empress Hotel Lunch

The seventy-five male voices of the Eugene Gleemen from Eugene, Oregon, entertained the Kiwanis Club in a programme of songs at a luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon.

Starting off with the rollicking "Pledge to Oregon," the gleemen under the baton of their conductor, John Stark Evans, turned to the sentimental "My Heart is a Silent Violin."

Particularly stirring were "Cosi Cosa," "Hospodi Pomilui," a Russian song, and "Carry Me Back to the Lone Prairie."

Hal Young, tenor soloist who was introduced as the original Student Prince, sang Romberg's "Serenade" and, as an encore, "Sweet Mystery of Life." The Gleemen brought their programme to a close with Logan's "Lift Thine Eyes."

Frank Schl introduced the conductor, Dr. Charles Hunt, the president of the organization; Mrs. Cora M. Frey, accompanist; Delbert Moss, violinist, and Hal Young to the Kiwanis.

George McMorran, a Kiwanian member of the gleemen, brought the greetings of the Eugene Kiwanis Club and said the gleemen really started from a small group of singers organized to entertain the Kiwanis convention which was held at Eugene in 1926.

Professor John Casteel expressed the appreciation of the gleemen over their visit to Victoria. It was one of their happiest experiences, he said.

"We sing because we like to sing together," Prof. Casteel said, "but we sing in the hope that our singing will help some deserving organization."

Rev. E. F. Church thanked the gleemen on behalf of the club. Walter Walker was in the chair. About sixty boys and girls from the Oak Bay High School filed into the ballroom after the luncheon to hear the gleemen.

Drivers Warned to Take Care on Island Highway Stretches

In the weekly road report of the Bureau of Provincial Information, automobile drivers are warned to proceed carefully at various points where reconstruction and surfacing work is under way.

Surfacing operations are expected to start this week on one-quarter mile at Cowichan Bay and one mile at a point two miles north of Ladysmith.

Reconstruction is proceeding at several points between miles 44 and 57 north of Nanaimo and on the six miles immediately south of Campbell River.

On the Parkville-Alberni road new construction is going ahead seven miles east of Alberni and on the Duncan-Cowichan Lake road surfacing of ten miles is expected to start within a few days.

Tolerance to Radio Is Urged

Mrs. Nellie McClung Speaks To Club On "Good Listening"

A plea for tolerance towards radio programmes which are designed to suit a wide variety of tastes, for "even crooners give pleasure to someone," was made by Mrs. Nellie McClung in one of her typically humorous and refreshing addresses before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. McClung was speaking on the subject "Good Listening" and as a member of the board of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation she reminded those critics who were apt to compare the American programmes with Canadian ones, to the detriment of the latter, that finances in Canada were limited and that the money spent on the Ford Symphony Hour equalled the total amount available for the CBC in Canada. The British Broadcasting Corporation spent $20,000,000 a year on programmes.

While it was the hope of the CBC that more programmes would be sponsored in future, care would be taken that the commercial aspect did not predominate, Mrs. McClung said.

She warned listeners to cultivate a discriminating taste, and not to become "radio-riders," as was the tendency among those who allowed the radio to run all day long. Radio listeners should offer suggestions as to the kind of programmes they preferred, said Mrs. McClung, and she likened the CBC to a great democracy in which all listeners had an equal claim.

She suggested that Canada had something distinctive to offer, "something more than cooking recipes." Plans were already being made for the dramatization of Canadian books, and she put forward the idea that the Women's Canadian Club might sponsor a humor contest for the radio, as "we must teach our children to laugh."

Reference was made to the very distinctive "Northern Messenger" broadcast which sends greetings from relatives and friends into the remote areas of the north, and she stated that this year the Hudson's Bay Company ship traveling northward was to be equipped with a short-wave set which would enable northerners to send messages to those in the south.

At the close of her interesting address, Mrs. McClung was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, Mrs. M. R. Pearce moving the vote of thanks to her.

Mrs. Arpad Galavich of Pess, Hungary, has given birth to her twenty-third child, and all her children are living.

Bishop Flays Canon On Divorce

Snobs and Profiteers Allowed At Holy Communion

LONDON—A divorced person was "singled out" for exclusion from Holy Communion while snobs, scoundrelmongers and profiteers were allowed to partake, Archdeacon P. Hartnell told the lower house of Convocation of Canterbury.

He was supporting a resolution of the Bishop of Barking, Dr. J. T. Inskip, that divorced persons, subject to the discretion of the bishop and other conditions, should not be "repelled from the sacraments on account of the marriage thus contracted."

"The habitual scoundrelmonger, the snob who despises his fellow-men and the profiteer may come to Holy Communion, but the person who, in complete sincerity—though I think utterly mistakenly—has done what he believes to be in accordance with the law of Christ, is the one person to be singled out and treated as a notorious evil-liver," the archdeacon said.

An amendment delaying consideration of the question was carried when other speakers declared if the resolution was passed at this time there would be warfare between the two groups in the church.

"What good is there in precipitating this violent faction in the church in this year of the recall to religion?" asked Archdeacon A. P. Shepherd.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, rank and the world looks pink. A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow normal or necessary in of colored but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Geraldine Percival Writes Her Impressions of Coronation and England

The following are a few excerpts taken from letters received by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Percival, 1025 Monterey Ave., from their daughter, Geraldine, who is representative of Oak Bay High School at the Coronation in London, England.

GREEN COUNTRYSIDE

On the first part of the boat trip, in the vicinity of Newfoundland they saw a number of icebergs. Apparently the weatherman favored them with fair weather as Geraldine reported feeling well and enjoying the amusements and meals, thereby proving to be a good sailor. To anyone who has never visited England, perhaps the following account of the trip to London will be interesting: Greenock on the Clyde she describes as spotlessly clean. Lovely hills rise from the sea, and at the bottom are nestled the dearest little villages, nice white houses with colored roofs situated on nicely kept green grounds. Hills covered with the queerest, bright emerald-green grass and purple plots, green plots; all divided by short hedges, the rest rising in the background with the sun shining through. The highlands in the background were deepest blue and in the valleys and up the hillsides were more green and purple plots, clusters of light and dark green trees, tall church spires and promenades.

Arriving at Liverpool Saturday, May 8, the steward woke them at 5.30 a.m. and they disembarked at 7, boarding the train and leaving Liverpool at 10.15.

The countryside of England, which appealed to her as beautiful, she describes briefly as follows: "Picturesque with green everywhere, trees of all shades of green, brooks and canals winding here and there, nice clean farm houses, pink apple blossoms, rolling hillsides, animals, white sheep with tiny lambs, horses and cows on green pastures, ducks in the ponds, red soil—perfect."

Arriving at Euston Station at 2.30 p.m., her first impression of London was very favorable. Taken to their apartments at Clanciarde Gardens, opposite Kensington Gardens, the fifteen British Columbia and Manitoba girls were located there. A number of soldiers and the air force were camped opposite in Kensington Gardens.

Sunday evening, when a number of the girls were walking to their apartments, they met a group of London boys who enquired if they were from Canada, to which they replied "yes." The boys then gave "three cheers for Canada." The next day they went to Trafalgar Square, where many streets come in like the spokes of a wheel, registered at Canada House and attended a tea party given by Lady Barrett at St. James's Palace, also visited Madame Tussaud's and the chamber of horrors.

SAW CORONATION

For the Coronation procession they were located on stand 34 close to Buckingham Palace, where they could see the King and Queen leave and return to the palace. Here they remained till the Royal Family reappeared on their balcony, the first time in response to the shouts of the crowd of thousands, yelling "We want to see the King and Queen."

Before starting for the stand, each student received a map of the route and a tab for their name and home and London address, in case of accidents.

Next day, May 13, drove to Surrey and visited Watts Gallery, the oldest Norman church at Compton, had tea at Rose Acres, then to Trafalgar Square along the Embankment past Westminster Abbey and Whitehall to 10 Downing Street, the home of Premier Baldwin. Visited the National Gallery, the BBC studios and heard the broadcasting orchestra of twenty-three pieces. They also attended the 139th anniversary service at Capt. Vancouver's grave in Petersham Church, where both Lieut.-Gov. Hamber and Hon. Ian Mackenzie spoke, after which they met Lieut.-Gov. and Mrs. Hamber, Reeve and Mrs. R. R. Taylor of Oak Bay, and Premier Pattullo's sister.

Attended first annual service held in Church of British Columbia, and the youth rally at Albert Hall, where Premier Baldwin addressed 8,700 youths, a crowd filling seven galleries and the large ground floor. At the close, Premier Baldwin called for three cheers for England and peace. Were guests of the Rotary Club at a banquet at Richmond. The chairman requested the fourteen B.C. girls (in uniform) to stand, and they received hearty applause.

On May 18 visited friends in Surrey who drove her and Ellen O'Connell to Hampton Court and Kew Gardens, which she said were most beautiful, and made special reference to the wonderful rhododendrons.

SAW QUEEN MOTHER

Visited Marlborough House, where Major F. C. Ney introduced the leaders to Queen Mary and, following a talk with her by the leaders, the girls (in uniform) formed a circle and marched by in single file close to the Queen Mother. They were shown over the gardens. They also visited Windsor Great Park and Windsor Castle and passed Virginia Water.

May 25 went to Tower of London and for tea in the Inner and Middle Temple; May 26 witnessed the changing of the guard, then to Hudson's Bay House and to tea at Beaver Hall.

May 27 to Houses of Parliament and to attend the Royal Tournament at Olympia.

Friday, May 28, departed for different schools where they will spend three weeks. Geraldine and four others to go to Ipswich High School, then all to spend the last week at a holiday school at Eastbourne, leaving by Empress of Australia on June 24 for home.

Community Club Plans Functions

The Esquimalt Community Club held a very interesting meeting on Monday evening, June 7, when forty members were present to hear of the work of the several branches of the club. The usual routine business was disposed of and bills ordered paid. Mrs. H. C. Silburn reported that thirty-nine had been visited during May, both in their homes and in hospital.

Mr. R. McVie, reporting for the social committee, spoke of the very successful card party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Norman on May 29. Seven tables of whist were accommodated. Mrs. H. Bennett reported that $133.22 had been cleared at the garden fete held on June 2 and extended thanks to all who had made this success possible. Mrs. R. McVie presented Mrs. Bennetts with a beautiful bouquet in recognition of her untiring work. A beach party, to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Jennings, 338 Victoria View Road, on the evening of June 18, was planned as the next social event. All are welcome.

A strawberry social will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Draper, 960 Lyall Street, on June 21 at 8.30 o'clock, to which it is hoped all interested will endeavor to be present.

At the close of the meeting a short entertainment was presented. Miss Kent-Jones rendered two violin solos, being accompanied by her mother at the piano. E. Impett and W. Blair put on a comic sketch and as an encore gave "Finnegans Ball" in their usual happy style. Refreshments were then served by Mrs. S. Mitchell and her committee.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE—At the monthly meeting of the Shawnigan Lake Women's Institute Mesdames G. G. Orr, E. Anderson, and C. M. Robertson were appointed delegates to the gala day meeting. Mrs. W. Robson of the Cowichan Health Centre, gave an interesting talk on institute affairs.

A MOTHER TO HER DEAD SON

To the Editor:—In loving memory of my darling son, Edward W. Boeworth, who was killed by a spar tree on June 9, 1936, at Rounds, B.C.:

Oh, why was Edward taken, so young and so fair,
When earth held so many it better could spare,
Hard was the blow that compelled us to part,
With my loving son, so dear to my heart,
There is a mother who misses you sadly, Edward,
And finds the time long since you went;
And I think of you daily and hourly,
But try to be brave and content,
But the tears that I shed in silence,
And the sigh I breathe of regret,
For you were mine, Edward,
Dear, and I remember,
Though all the world forget.

Queen's Message To W.I. Is Read

The monthly business meeting of the Lake Hill Women's Institute was held Monday afternoon, Mrs. J. Findlay presiding. Much gratification was expressed by the members for the gracious message to the Women's Institutes of the Dominion received from Her Majesty Queen Mary.

Mrs. Currie reported on her visit to the Coronation ceremonies at the Solarium, also to the Fairbridge Farm School, and was accorded a hearty vote of thanks. The British royal oak seedling is being left in the hands of the convener of agriculture until such time as it is ready to be planted.

Local events were summarized by Mrs. Moffat, a paper that is eagerly looked forward to each month by the members. July 21 has been chosen for the date of the annual picnic and will be held at Cordova Bay.

A talk on the Greater Vancouver Metropolitan Health Board was given by Miss Smith and illustrated by referring to Dr. Young's map of Greater Vancouver units. A gratifying improvement in the tubercular situation is evident since the board's inception and the system is effectively combating communicable disease. A sincere vote of thanks was expressed to Miss Smith by the president on behalf of the members. There will be no meetings in July nor August.

BABY'S SIMPLE AILMENTS CAN BE SHOOED AWAY

MOST babies get sick easily. They also get well quickly. That is, if you use the right medicine to "shoo" their ailments away.

Read how Mrs. C., of Freeman, Ont., does it. "My little girl was a small, delicate baby at birth, always constipated and cross. I bought a box of Baby's Own Tablets and used them when baby was cross, feverish, teething or at the first sign of a cold."

They will, also, promptly "shoo" away colic, simple croup, diarrhoea, upset stomach, simple fever, constipation and other minor ailments of babyhood.

Sweet-tasting. Easy to take. Prompt in action. Free from opiates and stupefying drugs. Absolutely harmless. Can be safely given to the most delicate baby. Analyst's certificate on every box. Get a box today and be prepared. 25 cents. Your druggist will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the results.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1937

Friendly stars rule today according to astrology. It is a time to follow routine work and should be fortunate for astrologers.

The stars smile upon educators who will now survey the year's achievements in universities and schools. Many changes in curricula will be advocated.

This is not a lucky configuration under which to sign contracts or to make plans supposed to be of a permanent character. Great changes in international affairs will affect Americans.

Accidents will continue to be numerous. Warnings have been many from astrologers that machinery, especially whatever is employed in transportation, will often be defective.

Automobiles and airplanes will cause loss of life. Much bloodshed is presaged for the summer, when adventurous young Americans will try to join foreign armies secretly.

Radical thinkers who emerge from the universities of the United States are to present new anxieties in coming weeks.

Rome is to continue to focus international interest and Italy is to be even more in the newspaper headlines than it has been in the past.

Speculation is to attract many persons this summer, when history may repeat itself in the stock markets.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of good luck in business. Good contracts are indicated for both men and women. Talented girls will meet success.

Children born on this day probably will be artistic and talented. Many subjects of this sign reach fame.

Benjamin Constant, portrait painter, was born on this day, 1841. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Caroline Herschel, college president, 1856; Minot, 2; George, clergyman and writer, 1861; and William Wayne Babcock, surgeon, 1872.

Pam Barton Is Eliminated From British Golf

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

CARL OWEN HUBBELL, who added up the greatest string of consecutive victories in baseball history—twenty-four—stumbled into his famous screwball by accident.

Hubbell, the New York Giant who can't be beat, was a curve and fast-ball pitcher until he lost control of a ball that slipped off his forefinger while he was southpawing for the Oklahoma City Club of the Western League in 1924.

"The ball, moving a bit in the palm, shot off the second finger, took a peculiar drop approaching the plate, and the batter missed it a foot," explains the gentlemanly Hubbell.

"I experimented with it for the remainder of the game.

"I noted that it became a semi-slow ball that dropped away from right-hand batters and curved in on left-handers.

"The batters seemed to have difficulty in hitting it solidly.

"They whacked my fast one and wide curve high and far, so I learned by my own experience that the best thing I had was the screwball."

Hubbell continued to employ the screwball against the advice of such famous baseball men as Ty Cobb and George Moriarty.

Cobb and Moriarty, Detroit managers, feared that it would ruin the then youngster's arm and talked Hubbell out of using it for a time and to such an extent that he twice was returned to the minors.

Shipped to the Tigers' Beaumont, Texas League, farm in the spring of 1928, Hubbell sat in his room the first night and took stock of himself.

He had explained to Moriarty that he believed he could deliver if permitted to go back to the screwball, but the former third baseman and current American League umpire advised against it.

"I decided that if I didn't throw the screwball I'd be nothing more than an ordinary minor league pitcher," says Bill Terry's star.

"I made up my mind either to get somewhere or ruin my arm and finish my baseball career.

"I spent the remainder of spring training with Beaumont specializing on that one delivery.

"I wanted to perfect it—to gain control of it.

"I used it whenever I got into trouble.

"It came through for me all right, because in mid-season of 1928 I was sold to New York.

"My two managers with the Giants—John McGraw and Bill Terry—told me that if I could win in the National League with my screwball to keep using it.

"And here I am, and they tell me that I'm still doing pretty good.

Hubbell perhaps is the most modest of a very orderly group of Polo Grounders.

"Let's not talk about the winning streak," he asserts, softly. "The boys win for me. All I do is throw the screwball. The boys pick up the hot bouncers, and throw out their men; catch long flies and get the necessary runs."

Hubbell is so efficient that there are times when he nearly falls a victim to his own incomparable skill. King Carl was so good against the Pittsburgh Pirates on a western trip that his efficiency boomeranged on him.

The Buccaneers seldom got a good piece of the ball. The result was that they fouled them off by dozens before they hit them into the ground or popped up. In the first seven innings, Hubbell struck out eight and yielded only five hits, and his outfielders had only three chances.

In their efforts to connect the Pittsburghers caromed fouls into the stands or back of the catcher, and by the seventh Hub was beginning to grow weary. In this round he wore himself out striking out Bill Brubaker and Fred Schulte after Lee Handley had tripped.

He was removed with two out in the ninth.

Other Stars Out

TURNBERRY, Scotland—Mrs. A. M. Holm, former British women's golf champion, defeated Pam Barton, defending titleholder, 5 and 3, in a third round match today.

The stocky English champion could not produce championship strikes against the tall, slim Scotswoman from the Ayrshire coast.

A large gallery of fans, cheering delightedly at the home girl's victory, saw Mrs. Holm consistently drop her shots inside Miss Barton's on the approaches and putt with unerring accuracy.

Beginning at the short fourth hole, where she holed a 36-footer to take a two-hole lead, Mrs. Holm's superior putting kept her advantage secure.

Mrs. Holm congratulating Miss Barton after the match, told her: "I'm sorry. Your injured ankle lost you the match."

"My ankle didn't matter," Miss Barton answered, kissing her opponent, "but your 35 out was too much."

INJURES ANKLE

For fifteen holes Mrs. Holm shot one over four and needed only twenty-five putts. Any chance Miss Barton might have had of overtaking her disappeared on the ninth when she slipped and fell, twisting her ankle while playing a brassie shot.

The champion limped through the rest of the match. The cards follow:

Out—

Mrs. Holm — 44245536—35

Miss Barton — 45434535—38

In—

Mrs. Holm — 545453

Miss Barton — 554464

Other third round results included:

Jessie Anderson defeated Mrs. W. H. Woods, 5 and 4.

Elsie Corlett defeated Mrs. Clement, 3 and 2.

Miss P. D. Falkner defeated Molly Gourlay, 1 up.

Mme. A. Strauss, St. Cloud, France, defeated Mrs. J. B. Walker, 3 and 1.

The defeats of Miss Gourlay and Mrs. Walker, both former British Curtis Cup players, were classified as upsets.

The last U.S. survivor, Barbara Thompson of Los Elitos, Calif., was eliminated in the third round by Peggy Nankivell, Melbourne, Australia, 1 up.

Glenlyon Captures Track Championship

First Private School to Take Junior Oak Bay Honors; High Wins Relay

Led by W. F. Pinckard, an exceptional natural runner from Qualicum, young athletes of Glenlyon School won the junior shield in the Oak Bay Schools Athletic Association annual sports at Cranmore Road yesterday. The triumph of the Glenlyon boys marked the first success of a private school in the quest for the shield, open for competition to both public and private schools in the municipality, since 1924.

Pinckard won the century and furlong dashes and placed second in the broad jump, while H. Buckley of the same school took the quarter, and J. F. Rowe placed in the high jump as the team ran up a total of twelve points, four more than Monterey, runners-up.

Oak Bay High School carried off the intermediate aggregate award with sixteen and a half points, Willows and Monterey shared second place with six apiece.

G. Pearce, Oak Bay High, led home two fellow students to win the Clear Cup, one of the major trophies at stake in the meet and the secondary school squad took the Ansonbom Cup relay.

Introduced by Captain F. G. Dexter, supervising principal of Oak Bay schools; K. C. Symons, president of the association, presented the awards to winners in the different events.

Nestell Gets Assistance

California's hopes for another Jim Corbett or Max Baer were blasted by the right-hand smashes of Bob Pastor, New York heavyweight, who pounded out an easy decision over Bob Nestell, native son, in a Los Angeles ring. Young Nestell, who had compiled a bright string of victories before he met Pastor, is being helped back through the ropes by his foeman here in one of the late rounds of the ten-rounder.

Chicago Sox Win Tenth Straight

Knock Over Yankees 5 to 4 to Go Into Tie For American League Lead

It's a press agent's dream, that doubleheader the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals are scheduled to play today at the Polo Grounds. It's a return engagement of the pitchers' battle of the century—Carl Hubbell vs. J. Herman Dean—brought about when yesterday's game was rained out.

Of course Hubbell no longer is trying to extend that fabulous winning streak, as he was back on May 19, when last they met in St. Louis. Hubbell walked off with a 4 to 1 decision that day and Dean lost the ball game, his temper and $50.

The prospect of the Dean-Hubbell clash cast the events of yesterday into the shade, even the facts that the Chicago White Sox ran their winning streak to ten straight to tie the New York Yankees for the American League lead, and the Pittsburgh Pirates cut their losing string short at five to move in behind the Giants and ahead of the rained-out Chicago Cubs.

The Sox now have completed a climb from the cellar that began on May 8. The final step was their 5 to 4 trouncing of the Yankees yesterday, accomplished despite Joe Di Maggio's ninth homer and Lou Gehrig's eighth.

The Pirates, on Russ Bauer's sixth pitching, routed the Phils, 8 to 6. Lefty Lee Grissom, with a four-hitter, blanked the Boston Bees, 4 to 0, while in the American League, Hank Greenberg's fifteenth homer and Elden Auker's one-hit hurling stopped the Philadelphia Athletics 6 to 0, and the Boston Red Sox put over eight runs in the ninth to edge out the Cleveland Indians, 10 to 8.

COAST LEAGUE

Rumors Manager Willie Kamm of the San Francisco Missions would be released because his team had made a poor showing in the Coast Baseball League were denied today by Joe Bearwald, president of the Missions.

A four-run spurge in the fourth inning gave the Los Angeles team a 4 to 1 win over Wayne Osborne and the Missions last night at San Francisco.

San Francisco Seals retained their one-game league leadership by defeating San Diego, 5 to 1, at the second place Sacramento Solons won an eleven-inning encounter from the Oakland A's 4 to 3.

Seattle's Indians nipped three Portland hurriers for nineteen hits, including big Mike Hunt's fifteenth homer of the season with two aboard, to wallop the Beavers, 15 to 1.

Racing Driver Killed in South

LOS ANGELES—Midget auto racing, so-called safe and sane speedway sport, last night claimed the life of Bill Betteridge, twenty-three, in a spectacular three-car crash at Atlantic Stadium.

The pilot was thrown thirty feet from his machine after it locked wheels with Pat Cunningham's and rolled end over end.

Good Field For Latonia Derby

COVINGTON, Ky.—A field of fifteen, including the Kentucky Derby show horse, Reaping Reward, was indicated Tuesday for the $15,000 added Latonia Derby.

Four "also rans" from the Kentucky classic also will go to the post Saturday for the fifty-fifth running of the Latonia feature race for three-year-olds.

War Admiral and Poppo, win and place horses of the Kentucky Derby, and Preakness were among the fifty-one nominated on May 10, but neither will start. The injury to War Admiral in the Belmont last Saturday prevented Sam Riddle's colt from trying for the $5,000 premium offered by Latonia if the winner of its Derby also won the Kentucky Derby.

Win A Section Softball Game From James Island As New Method Beaten

Last night's scores:
North Saanich 7, New Method Laundry 3.
Kents 8, Victoria Longshoremen 3.
Painter's Bruins 18, James Island 9.

Turning in their smartest performance of the season, North Saanich softballers, who only recently managed to clamber out of the cellar berth in the league standings, upset the dope last night when they trounced the league-leading New Method Laundry nine, 7 to 3, in an A section tussle at Sidney.

The laundrymen's defeat, coupled with Painter's Bruins victory over James Island, hoisted the Bruins into a tie for first place with New Method.

The Laundry took the lead in the first frame when they pushed across one run, but the Saanich club tied the score in the next inning and in the third sent two runners the distance to secure a two-run lead. Byers' homer with Klanton on accounted for the runs.

In the sixth inning the laundrymen marked up a pair of tallies and again the score was deadlocked. North Saanich tallied two runs in the seventh and a likewise number in the eighth to win the fixture with a four-run margin.

Kelly Comerford worked on the mound for the laundrymen until early in the eighth when he was replaced by Art Carr. Byers was back on the hillcock for North Saanich and hurled good ball.

Score by innings:
New Method — 1 0 0 0 2 0 0 0—3
North Saanich — 0 1 2 0 0 2 2 x—7
Batteries—Comerford, A. Carr and Knapp; Byers and King.

KENTS MOVE UP

Kents advanced into third place, one game behind the leaders, when they chalked up an 8 to 3 triumph over the Victoria Longshoremen at the Athletic Park.

It was a nip-and-tuck affair up until the fifth with the score tied at 2 to 2. It was in this session, however, that Noel Morgan laced out a circuit drive to the left field fence with two men on the sacks to give Kents a three-run lead.

In the seventh Kents sent three more runners the distance to finish their scoring for the evening. All the Longshoremen could do during the remainder of the game was add one more tally to their previous two and that came in the eighth inning.

From the offerings of Ralph Bonner, Kents' batters secured eight safeties. Lloyd Jones allowed the freight jugglers nine hits.

Score by innings:
Longshoremen — 0 0 2 0 0 1 0—3
Kents — 0 2 0 0 3 0 3 x—8
Batteries—Bonner and Fleming; Jones and Caddell.

Painter's Bruins waltzed through for an 18 to 9 triumph over James Island at Victoria West Park.

Three mound aces, Devlin, Smith and "Rosy" McLellan, worked for James Island. From the combined offerings of the three Bruins collected eleven hits.

MERCURY'S SUNSHINE

I am glad I was not born on the planet Mercury! If I had been, life would not have been so pleasant!

Mercury isn't a very big planet. It has a diameter of 3,100 miles, not quite one and one half times the diameter of the moon.

Artist's idea of sun shining on Mercury

The small size of Mercury is not the reason I would not care to live on it. There might be plenty of enjoyment in a small world, but if it were blazing hot on one side and frozen solid on the other side, it wouldn't be a good place for even a short visit.

That is the belief of astronomers. It is a hard planet to study, but enough has been learned to say that one side is almost surely turned away from the sun all the time. That side must have such a low temperature that the North Pole would seem like a summer resort compared to it.

If one side is always away from the sun, the other side has everlasting daylight, also everlasting heat. The ground surface is believed to have an average temperature of at least 600 degrees above zero Fahrenheit. Since that is hot enough to melt lead, a person walking around there would find his feet getting a bit too warm.

On our earth there is very little change in the seeming size of the sun at noon. What a different story it is on Mercury! At one time of its year, the sun would seem about five times as large as it does to us. At another season, only twenty-two days later, it would seem about ten times as large as to us!

The changes in the seeming size of the sun, if seen from Mercury, are due to changes in distance. At a certain time, the planet is 28,500,000 miles from the sun. At another time, it is 43,400,000 miles from the sun.

The heat from the sun also differs a great deal. There is always too much on one side of Mercury, but sometimes there is about twice as much as at other times.

To make the complete trip around the sun takes Mercury eighty-eight days of time, as we count time on earth. That gives us reason to say that Mercury's year lasts a little less than three months. A twelve-year-old boy or girl of the earth would be more than forty-eight "years" old on Mercury.

Careful study of Mercury has failed to show air around it. If there is any air, it is so little that there would not be enough for us to breathe. That is another reason I would not care to go there.

Mercury has been called "the twilight planet." This name comes from the fact that we can see it only in the early evening or around sunrise. Even then it is hard to find.

Questions to Ask Your Fiancee

Dorothy Dix

Will He Be Able to Support You?

Undoubtedly much domestic misery would be saved and many divorces prevented if in the days of courtship the enamored youth and maiden attempted to ascertain each other's views on a few practical points, instead of trying to take the temperature of each other's affections and find out if said emotions would always keep at the boiling point.

This may be a difficult thing to do for those who are venturing into matrimony for the first time because they do not know what virtues to look for and what faults to avoid in selecting their mates. Before marriage good looks, devotion, charm, gaiety seem the most desirable attributes in a husband or wife. After marriage you know that an entirely new line of qualities makes a man or woman endurable as a life partner.

So I would suggest that the engaged girl, instead of demanding to know of the Boy Friend whether he is utterly, perfectly, entirely certain that he will never cease to love her or look at another woman, would lay off of the sentimental goo-goo talk long enough to submit to him a few pertinent inquiries as to his point of view and convictions and reactions on the following subjects. Such as:

The money question. How much do you make in real money? Are you a spender or a saver? If I marry you, will I have to scrimp on the butcher's bill in order to pay for your lodge dues and the floral piece you sent to some stranger's funeral? Will we be always just one leap ahead of the Sheriff because you have no sales resistance and will buy anything you can get on time? Or will you handle what you earn prudently and wisely so that we may look forward to living on Easy Street in our old age?

How do you stand on the allowance proposition? Are you going to make me a partner or a panhandler? Are you going to give me an allowance on which to run the house and for my own personal use as my right? Or are you going to make me rattle my tin cup before you and beg for every nickel? Are you going to be shocked and resentful at the cost of marriage, or feel that it is worth its price?

Are you going to be a fireside companion or one of the men who put on their hats as soon as dinner is over and beat it to the club or some place where there is a poker game going on? If I marry you, will I have an agreeable steady date for my evenings or spend them alone reading an improving book or trying to corkscrew conversation out of a man who has about as little talk in him as a store dummy?

What are your views on the baby question? Do you regard children as blessings or brats? Would you look upon Junior as a well-spring of joy or just more expense?

Do you think a wife is entitled to a night off now and then and some amusement? Or do you think that just being married is entertainment enough for any woman? Would you take me stepping at least once a week and treat me like a Lady Love, or would you think my place was in the corner at home with the other household conveniences?

And what about relatives? Would I have to live with mother-in-law or have mother-in-law live with me? Would I have to run a free hotel for your people, while you look like an early Christian martyr if mine dropped in for a meal?

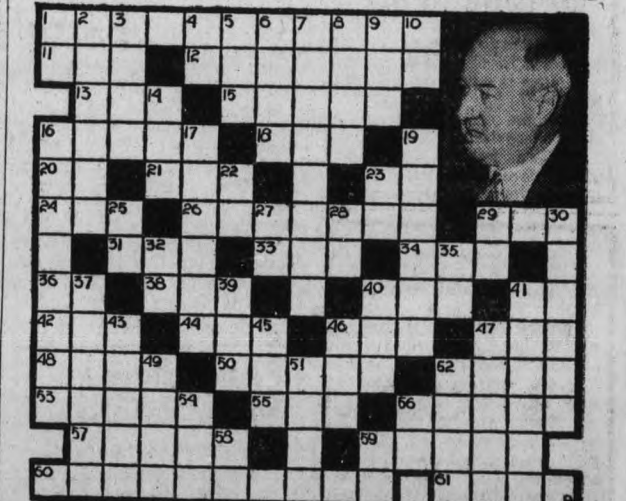

Are you argumentative? Are you one of the men to whom you cannot even say it is a pleasant day without starting something? Please answer this question fully yes or no because I couldn't stand a husband with whom I would be in a perpetual debate.

Are you going to do your part toward making a happy home after you are married, or are you going to dump the whole responsibility on your wife and expect her to do all the smiling while you do the grumping? These are some of the questions that every engaged girl should ask her fiance. And by the way he answers them she can form a very good idea of what sort of a husband he will make.

RECORD YEAR, SAYS BOREHAM

C.N.R. Prepared For Phenomenal Rail, Steamers and Hotel Season

"The biggest travel year in the country's history," is the prediction for this season's tourist business by Bruce Boreham, press representative for the Canadian National Railways, Winnipeg, who is in Victoria today.

"The travel movement is starting earlier this year with the railways, steamships and hotels prepared to handle record business," he said.

The heavy bookings for the Alaska and northern British Columbia service is indicative of the trend, Mr. Boreham points out.

Apart from the regular northern sailings by the steamships Prince Rupert and Prince George, the crack coast liner Prince Robert, now on a special cruise to Alaska, including side trips to Sitka and Gardner Canal, will make five additional northern cruises this summer, compared with four last year.

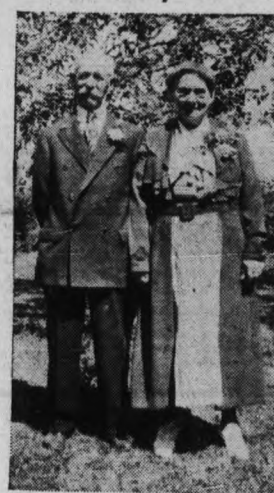

Air-conditioning of the Canadian National transcontinental trains is another factor in travel inducement this year, Mr. Boreham says.

On the C.N.R. system, tourist as well as standard sleepers are air-conditioned and this season also the day coaches will be equipped with special reclining seats which will add greatly to the comfort of passengers.

Jasper Park Lodge, which officially opens on June 15, will have one of its greatest seasons, according to Mr. Boreham, who is leaving Victoria today to be there for the opening of the mountain resort.

The California Press Association will be there for the opening and the Sun Life national convention will be an outstanding event at Jasper in August.

Wed Fifty Years

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Battie, a popular pioneer couple of Ladysmith, who celebrated their golden wedding on Monday, May 31, at their home on Victoria Crescent. They were "at home" to their friends in the afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock. Mrs. Battie was assisted in receiving the guests by her two daughters, Mrs. A. A. Moore of Nanaimo and Mrs. Gilroy of Chemainus. Tea was poured by her daughters-in-law, Mrs. T. Battie and Mrs. R. P. Battie of Ladysmith and Mrs. A. Battie of Victoria.

The tea table was beautiful with its cloth of Italian lace and centred with a handsome three-tier wedding cake. The rooms were attractively arranged with a profusion of flowers in golden colors, the gifts of their many friends, showing the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Battie are held in the community.

In the evening a dinner party was held, when those present were their three sons, two daughters and fourteen grandchildren.

Crop Outlook on Prairies Down

OTTAWA—Dry conditions along with windstorms over large areas of Alberta and Saskatchewan have brought a general decline in crop prospects during the last week, said a crop report issued Tuesday by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Manitoba continues to be an outstanding exception to the general situation. In that province, said the report, rainfall during the last week has in many cases been in excess of the total precipitation during the 1936 growing season and throughout the province prospects for all crops are good.

Alberta House Awaits Powell

Adjoins For Government to Confer With Social Credit Expert

EDMONTON — G. F. Powell, Social Credit technician representing Major C. H. Douglas, the Scottish engineer who first propounded the monetary theories, holds the key to the political and legislative impasse in Alberta.

The Legislature stood adjourned today, the insurgents and loyalists who have been warring for weeks over the introduction of Social Credit, had signed an armistice, and speeding west from Montreal, where he landed Monday from England, was the emissary of Major Douglas. Loyalists and insurgents hope he can show them the way out of their difficulties and speed up introduction of Social Credit.

The Legislature adjourned yesterday until June 14 over the protests of Liberals and Conservatives. Premier William Aberhart said the recess was necessary to enable the government to confer with Powell, insisting there was no use going ahead unless the course was plotted expertly.

SCIENCE CHURCH ELECTS NEW HEAD

BOSTON — Progress of Christian Science expressed in the organization and recognition of fifty-nine new churches and societies; in sales increases of 66 per cent for the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer and founder of Christian Science; in an increasingly friendly public thought as reflected by legislative bodies when handling measures involving medical and religious freedom; and in much good healing work, featured reports by church officers at the annual meeting here of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

The election of Judge Clifford P. Smith of Newton, Mass., as church president for the coming year, and of Edward L. Ripley of Brookline as treasurer, and Ezra W. Palmer of Marshfield as clerk was announced.

Reports showed the Christian Science denomination has 2,781 branches. Miss M. Rosamond Wright, manager of the department of branches and practitioners, reported further for the year: "Good growth in our movement is shown through the organization and recognition of fifty-nine new churches and societies as branches of the Mother Church, and six new university organizations. Twenty-five of these branches are in Europe, thirty in North America, two in Australasia, one in Africa, and one in South America."

William M. Bartlett, secretary of the trustees under the will of Mary Baker Eddy, reported an accounting of expenditures in excess of $200,000 during the year ended April 30. In fulfillment of the purpose of the will, the items for which this fund was used included assisting thirty-three churches and societies in erecting, purchasing or remodeling buildings; helping churches with lecture activities, and for free distribution of Christian Science literature.

C.P.R. CHORAL HOUR JUNE 23

Two Hundred Mixed Voices, Organ and Band to Broadcast Fine Programme

VANCOUVER—Massed choirs of 200 mixed voices, a pipe band, electric pipe organ and an estimated 3,000 additional voices from the audience will contribute to the second annual Canadian Pacific choral hour to be presented at the Canadian Pacific Railway station, Wednesday, June 23, from 6 to 6.45 p.m.

Something unique in choral presentations, the huge rotunda of the railway station will act as a music hall and the public will be admitted not only to listen to but to take part in the programme.

The presentation is an idea conceived by Charles E. Blaney, agent of the C.P.R., who developed a community singing in the station last summer with the Canadian Pacific male choir as a background as a feature of the Golden Jubilee celebration.

This year, however, the programme is on a much more ambitious scale with the city's leading choral organizations taking a hand.

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will handle the programme on a national network from 6 to 6.45 p.m., June 23, releasing it to some United States stations through the Mutual chain.

Chorals play a leading part in the broadcast, with the gifted Vancouver conductor Evan Walters, leading 200 voices. The choirs include the Canadian Pacific Male Choir of thirty-five voices, a frequent British Columbia Festival winner; the Hudson's Bay Choral Society of sixty mixed voices; the Burrard Male Choir of fifty-five voices; and the Brahms Choir of seventy mixed voices. The orchestra from the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia and the Canadian Pacific pipe band, led by Pipe-Major Jim Horn, and an electric pipe organ also will be featured.

Benson's wife, twenty-one, also known as Rhea Prema, was given a year-and-a-day sentence. Federal court at tates said she would become a mother next November.

Bishop Barnes States Views

BIRMINGHAM, Eng.—The Bishop of Birmingham, Rt. Rev. E. W. Barnes, yesterday gave his support to a suggestion that communion be given by the church to divorced persons.
"I am not so perfect that I can condemn others," the bishop told his diocesan conference. "If those who have remarried after divorce sought God's help in Holy Communion I could not bring myself to refuse them."

Big Callander Signs Barred

CALLANDER, Ont.—Arrival of an official of the Ontario highways department to enforce new regulations respecting erection of signs and new structures bordering highways is causing a stir in this area, famous because the Dionne quintuplets were born two and a half miles from here.

Orders that signs, depending on size, must be from 100 to 300 feet from the highway and not located near curves, will necessitate removal of many advertising displays along the road from Callander to the Dionne nursery. Souvenir and refreshment stands erected this year within twenty feet of highways must be moved.

Britain Opposes Spain Division

LONDON—Whatever the outcome of the Spanish civil war, Great Britain wants Spain's territorial integrity preserved, Viscount Cranborne, Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs, told the House of Commons Tuesday.

"I am glad to have the opportunity of emphasizing the government have made it clear on several occasions—and in particular when the Spanish question was before the League of Nations—that the preservation of the territorial integrity of Spain is matter of great moment to them," Lord Cranborne told a questioner.

Geoffrey Mander, Liberal, asked: "Can you say what that means? Does it mean you are going to war on it?"

Lord Cranborne declined to reply.

Alderman Told Man Will Steal

VANCOUVER—When the city council refused to adopt his scheme to raise $250,000, an unnamed man on Tuesday said he was going to go out and steal unless given at least two days' relief work each month.

"I've got to steal to live," he said, and explained he had been denied relief because he held some land in trust for his daughter.

He claimed the city could raise $250,000 by clearing city-owned lots with unemployed labor, selling them, and thus placing them back on the tax roll.

Aldermen said there were too many men clamoring for relief to set what would be a dangerous precedent in granting relief in this case.

H. L. Smith, principal of Victoria High School, announced today W. Harry Hickman had been awarded the scholarship for the province for the summer school in French by McGill University. He will leave toward the end of the month for Montreal.

FAKIR OF IPI MAKES ESCAPE

Rebel Leader Slips Away As Northwest Indian Troops Advance

BOMBAY—The Fakir of Ipi has "opped it."

The elusive terror of the Indian northwest frontier avoided troops who bore swiftly down on the Arsal Kot, Waziristan, cave where the wily terrorist had lived for three months.

The cave was empty. The red-haired firebrand, whose "holy war" against the British Raj has cost the lives of fifty British and Indian troops, had vanished.

Authorities reported the operation was successful as the Fakir was forced to move camp and abandon his activities temporarily.

The thirty-six-year-old fanatic has scores of hideouts in the straggling, scrub-tangled hills and ravines of the district.

While his activities only recently have come to the fore, the Fakir has been a thorn in the side of government for twelve years.

He and his associates hold British rule in the northwest frontier province is against the creed of Islam. They aim to avenge their faith by killing soldiers.
